

A College on the cutting-edge

It's here! After almost four months of planning and development, the CSTC College new website was launched on June 30. The project was directed by an excellent team of experts from SARIAYA.net WebDesignz, lead by Mr. Jubert Reyes webmaster/founder of SARIAYA.net, who worked with school administrators and staff to create an easily navigable site spotlighting CSTC outstanding programs and faculty.

The site is designed to introduce outsiders - especially prospective students- to the many attributes of CSTC College. In particular, it highlights our warm and personalized teaching environment, nationally recognized faculty and staff. Prospective students are not the only anticipated users of this site. Special links on the homepage have been designed to make the site more accessible to all school constituencies including faculty and staff, alumni, community members, prospective students and newly admitted students.

We invite you to explore our new website. Learn about all the exciting innovations that our faculty, staff and students are creating. Study student life, curricular and extracurricular activities. Catch up on the campus news.
